

Members of the general public wants the FCC to expand community radio, including Low Power FM radio, to reach our neighborhoods, communities and towns

Members of the general public wants the FCC to protect local news broadcasts, and give local citizens the power to make their voices heard on their own airwaves, specifically public television and public access television on cable tv.

Members of the general public wants the FCC to restrict the power of big companies like Clear Channel, Viacom, Time Warner and Disney to buy up all the local stations in our towns. There is a lack of companies of color who are shut out of purchaing and operating local radio and television. The FCC needs to facilitate to companies of color and community groups access to the radio and air waves.
